

Joel G. MacMull, Esq., Archer

Joel's practice focuses on high-stakes complex commercial litigation and intellectual property disputes, including, copyright and trademark infringement, trade secret misappropriation, false advertising, "cybersquatting," rights of publicity, as well as general contract and business tort disputes. Joel has tried cases in state and federal courts, as well as before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board. Joel also has significant appellate experience — he was intimately involved in the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit's rehearing in In re Tam, in which the full Court by a vote of 9-to-3 held § 2(a) of the trademark statute unconstitutional on its face in In re Tam, 808 F.3d 1321 (Fed. Cir. 2015). Joel has also briefed and argued multiple cases before the Second Circuit, and the New York Appellate Division.
